School mission statement

Our Mission is to ensure that every individual achieves their potential through the pursuit of academic excellence and the nurturing of their gifts and talents.

To create a caring Catholic community; allowing everyone to develop and share in the love of Christ; serving the world of today and tomorrow through the relationships we make and the service we provide to others.

Implementation and review of policy

This policy takes note of and is consistent with the Archdiocese of Southwark's Education in Human Love: Diocesan Policy on Relationships and Sex Education.

Implementation of the policy will take place after consultation with the Governors in the Autumn term 2020. This policy will be reviewed annually by the Headteacher, RSE co-ordinator, the Governing body and staff members.

The next review date is September 2022.

Dissemination

St Ursula's RSE policy has been shared and agreed by our Governors. All teaching and non-teaching staff will have access to the policy and will be saved on the staff shared area. A copy of the policy will also be made available to all parents/carers online on our school website. Details of our school RSE curriculum and PSHE audit will be published on the school website for parents/carers.

Defining Relationships and Sex Education

The Department for Education (DFE) defines RSE as 'lifelong learning about physical, moral and emotional development. It is about the understanding of the importance of marriage and family life, stable and loving relationships, respect, love and care. It is also about the teaching of sex, sexuality and sexual health'. The RSE curriculum aims to ensure all students can develop attitudes and values, personal and social skills and also knowledge and understanding with content that will be age-appropriate and relevant.

Introduction to RSE in St Ursula's

At St Ursula's our mission is to contribute to the development of independent young people who are able to make a difference within society. We believe that our RSE curriculum will enable our students to not only grow in knowledge and understanding of themes relevant to their lives and society but also that they grow in compassion and love, living out the Gospel values in their daily lives. The teachings of the Catholic Church are an essential thread within our whole school RSE curriculum. The resources we have chosen to use are excellent at not only delivering wholesome lessons and knowledge but also are rooted in scripture and Church teaching.

Statutory Curriculum

'I have come that you might have life and have it to the full' (John 10:10)

As a Catholic school, we are involved in relationships and sex education precisely because of our Christian beliefs about God and about the dignity of every human person. The belief that each person is made in the 'image and likeness of God' underpins the approach to all education in Catholic education. This belief is centred around the idea that gender and sexuality are seen as a gift from God, reflect God's beauty and that sex is a gift to be shared within marriage as a way of uniting male and female. St Ursula's approach to RSE is therefore rooted in the Catholic Church's teaching of the dignity of the human person and is presented in a positive way.

Following on from the guidance of the Bishops Conference of England and Wales and as advocated by the DFE, RSE will be firmly embedded in the PSHE framework as it is concerned with nurturing human wholeness and is integral to the physical, spiritual, emotional, moral, social and intellectual development of all our students. It is centred on Christ's vision of being human as good news and will be positive and prudent, showing the potential for development, while enabling the dangers and risks involved to be understood and appreciated. All RSE content delivered in St Ursula's will be in accordance with the Church's moral teaching. It will emphasise the central importance of marriage and the family whilst acknowledging that all pupils have a fundamental right to have their life respected whatever household they come from and support will be given to all pupils to deal with different sets of values and opinions that may be shared in discussion time.

The legal requirements relating to the teaching of RSE is as follows:

- RSE is now a compulsory aspect of the National Curriculum in England however it will not be formally assessed
- Our guiding principle is that all of the compulsory subject content must be age appropriate
- It will be taught sensitively and inclusively, with respect to backgrounds and beliefs of pupils and parents
- It provides students with the knowledge that they need of the law

Aims and objectives

At St Ursula's we are committed to the education of the whole child and we believe that RSE is an integral part of this education. Furthermore, we are committed to raising our pupils' self-esteem, helping them to grow in knowledge and understanding. We want our students to respect and recognise the value of all people they meet and develop empathy towards others.

Outcomes

Inclusion and differentiated learning

We will ensure that RSE is sensitive to the different needs of our students in respect to pupils' different abilities, levels of maturity and personal circumstances. All our RSE lessons will help students to realise the nature and consequences of discrimination, teasing, bullying and aggressive behaviour (including cyber-bullying) use of prejudice based language and how to respond/ask for help. Please read in conjunction with our school inclusion policy.

Equal obligations

The governing body of St Ursula's have wider responsibilities under the Equalities Act 2000 and will ensure that our school community strives to meet the needs of all its pupils. Irrespective of disability, educational need, race, nationality, sex, gender identity, religion or home situation.

'We have to remember. that everyone, none excluded, no matter what the situation a person is living in, we can feel accepted by God, participate actively in the life of the community and be a part of the 'People of God' which journeys tirelessly towards the fullness of his kingdom of justice, love, forgiveness and mercy' (Pope Francis, Misericordia et Misera)

Broad content of RSE in St Ursula's

The three aspects of RSE – attitudes and values, knowledge and understanding and personal and social skills will be provided throughout our whole school PSHE and RSE policy.

St Ursula's will be following the RSE resources provided by the company 'Ten Ten'. As a Catholic Education Service they endeavour to provide outstanding resources that comply fully with the teachings of the Catholic Church. Ten Ten have developed their programme of study in line with the DFE curriculum for PSHE and RSE and the Bishops Conference have approved the use of Ten Ten resources in their conference meeting on 1st October 2020.

RSE at present will not be formally assessed, however we will be embedding the use of quizzes class debating and low-stakes testing e.g.: retrieval practice to assess learning. All students will receive an exercise book for RSE and this will be useful for whole school monitoring.

Overview of content taught for each year group. Lesson 1 for each year group will be taught in an RE lesson with their RE teacher and the other 7 will be delivered by the form tutor.

Balanced curriculum

Whilst promoting Catholic values and virtues we will ensure our students receive clear scientific information as well as covering the law pertaining to RSE in topics such as forced-marriage, female genital mutilation (FGM), abortion, the age of consent and the legislation relating to equality. We understand and value that knowing about the facts and enabling young people to explore different viewpoints is not the same as promoting behaviour that is not compatible with our school's promotion of Catholic teaching.

Parents and Carers

We recognise that parents and carers are the primary educators of their children. As a Catholic school, we will provide the means by which the Church assists parents and carers in educating their children. We want to work in partnership with our parents and carers by providing access to the material that their children will be studying as part of the RSE curriculum. Parents and carers will receive a letter about Ten Ten resources and details about the parent log-in tool and how to access resources relevant to their child. Parents and carers are advised to complete the short-course providing an overview of the Ten Ten programme. St Ursula's will also give parents and carers the opportunity to consult and give feedback on the content that will be delivered to students via a google form.

Parents and carers are encouraged to respond to the google consultation form and will also be involved in the monitoring, review and evaluation of the programme. Our view is that at the end of the consultation process, every parent and carer will have full confidence in our school's RSE programme in meeting their child's needs.

Parents have the right to withdraw their child from RSE except in those elements which are required by the National Curriculum. Students can be withdrawn up to three terms before their 16th birthday. If students are over 16 years old, the student themselves can opt back into the programme. Should parents or carers wish to withdraw their child they are asked to notify the school directly.

Responsibility for teaching the programme

The responsibility for the delivery of the RSE programme lays with the whole school community in St Ursula's. The first RSE lesson will be taught within the student's RE lesson as this will lay the Biblical and Catholic foundations. The remaining lessons will be delivered by the form tutor and all resources will be provided by Ten Ten. All staff members have a responsibility to be positive role models for pupils of good, healthy, wholesome relationships. They will also be contributing to the development of pupils' personal and social skills.

External visitors

Our school will often allow outside agencies and health specialists to deliver aspects of RSE. In particular, we will be using Ten Ten staff to deliver workshops to our students each year. Such visits, will always complement the programme and will never substitute or replace teacher led sessions. Any visitor must adhere to our code of practice developed in line with the Catholic Education Service guidance 'Protocol for visitors for Catholic Schools'.
